

Attached are the video & photo for your reference.

As you see the photo, you can see the line in the red box. This top thread is usually wound differently than the rest of the cop.

You can also see this line on every cop of our product.

As you watch the attached video, you can find the start of the cop easily.